The NSS unit of SWAMI VIVEKANAND COLLEGE OF EDUCATION, TARKWARI organized World Red Cross Day on May 8 2024. The programme began with 9:30 AM. World Red Cross Day is celebrated every year on 8th May to honor Henry Dunant, the founder of the International Committee the Red Cross and the recipient of the first Nobel Peace Prize. Our aim was to teach students the value of life and health as well as the importance of respecting human dignity. The young 67 NSS Volunteer participated zestfully in guest lecture on "Importance of World Red Cross Day and How to Use First- Aid Box" Through these activities we hope to encourage younger generation to cultivate their humanitarian spirit by understanding the Red Cross principles and ideas. The Resource person of this event, Mrs. Priyanka Thakur, gave detailed information to the students about the importance of Red Cross and how to use first aid kit. She told how we can save a people during an accident by giving first aid. During her speech, she also explained how if someone gets burnt or is bitten by a snake, how can he/she be taken care of with the help of first aid kit. The event was concluded with the vote-of-thanks given by NSS Programme officer Mrs.Amita Rani.
